"The Womanless Wedding" will be presented at Bay High Auditorium by the members of the young adult class of the Main Street Methodist Church, under the supervision of Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Saturday, March 17, at 8 p. m. The proceeds of this entertainment will go towards the renovation of the Adult Class Room in the building adjoining the church the exterior of which has already been done over. This building was presented to the church by Mrs. A. C. Exnicios and the late Mr. Exnicios.

In reading over the cast we cannot help but make a comment on the splendid spirit of cooperation that exists between members of the various religious denominations in Bay St. Louis, here we find Baptist, Methodist and perhaps members of other faiths all joined together in a common purpose to aid in the dissemination of religious teachings, the love of God and your neighbor, the rock upon which the universe was founded and from which we are gradually receding. This is indeed again a splendid exemplification of tolerance and brotherly love which to us, has always been outstanding in Bay St. Louis. May it go on and on.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce had a peppy meeting last Tuesday evening we understand several subjects, in which the people of this section are particularly interested, were taken up; one in particular, the question of a sand beach, was discussed at length. This, of course, is a most needed project, and we have felt so for a long time. In fact, twelve years ago this writer, together with J. R. Rollins, then County engineer, went to Washington and made application for a $240,000.00 project with the Works Progress Administration for the pumping in of a sand beach and the building of the necessary groins over the entire beach front in Hancock County. At that time it was necessary to secure the approval of the Federal Beach Erosion Board, and we filed, what we think was the first application for a study by this board of an erosion project in the South. The study was pursued by the United States Engineers for a period of a year, and the report and suggested location of groins were filed; then along came the war and the allocation of federal funds under the Works Progress Administration was discontinued. With this the project died. We know full well that such a project could not be undertaken at this time to cover the entire beach front, but certainly short stretches of sand beaches can be made available at a nominal cost and without the necessity of any bond issue, in Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore. Let us all hope that this will not be too far in the offing.

Politics are beginning to blossom out. Two candidates for Governor were down here Tuesday morning and talked informally to the voters in attendance at the opening of Circuit Court. Judge Corban very graciously allowed time out in the court proceedings to give Sam Lumpkin Lieutenant Governor, and Ross Barnett, candidates for Governor, the opportunity to speak to the group in behalf of their candidacy.

A. B. Tipping Jr. Purchases Gulf Chevrolet Co.

Al Voight, owner of the Gulf Chevrolet Company has sold his business to A. B. Tipping, Jr., of Pass Christian. The transfer has been approved by General Motors and will be effective as of April 1, 1951.

Mr. Tipping is no stranger to Bay St. Louis. He resided here in his boyhood days and attended St. Stanislaus. He has been associated with General Motors Acceptance Corporation for a number of years, and is well acquainted in the automotive field.

Mr. Voight will keep his real estate holdings, which will be under lease to the new owner; he has also retained the ownership of his Dixie Auto Lee store.

The proceeds of this entertainment will go toward the renovation of the Adult Class meeting room in the building presented to the Methodist church by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Exnicios. Each organization within the church is raising the necessary funds to paint and repair its meeting room.

A reception for all spectators will follow the ceremony in the auditorium.

Admission will be $1.00 for adults and twenty-five cents for children.

W. J. "Tip" Fleming To Make Race For State Representative

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of W. J. "Tip" Fleming for State Representative from Hancock County, Mississippi, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951.

TO THE VOTERS OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISS.

In making this announcement as a candidate for the Legislature to the House of Representatives for Hancock County, I wish to say that I have had the distinction and honor of serving this County as Representative for eight (8) years. I might say in connection with this work I was the first advocate of free school books. Secondly, I advocated that the State aid the County in hard surfacing the roads which the Legislature passed in 1920, by putting on a 3 1/2 cent excise tax. Then the Highway Commission began functioning in building a great gravel highway system in Mississippi.

I originated and carried a home-stead exemption bill to the Legislature in 1932. I did not introduce this measure because of the poor financial standard of the State at that time until 1934. I introduced that bill on the 4th day of the session which is on record in the House Journal of 1934.

In this campaign I expect to discuss with the voters of the County two very important questions.

1. I favor that the state take over the farm to market roads, build them up and blacktop them then return them to the Board of Supervisors of the various counties for maintenance. Our road system is the most important thing to the rural life of this State in moving all the raw materials from the farm and the forest, factories and fisheries. We expect two million bales of cotton this year to be produced in Mississippi, which will come from the farms and the (Continued on last page)

Dr. A. Pelletieri Addresses P-T. A.

Dr. A. J. Pelletieri, director of the reading clinic at Mississippi Southern College, addressed the members of the Bay Central P-T. A. at their meeting Tuesday evening.

Dr. Pelletieri, in his opening remarks, said that poor reading affects the child at home, at school and in all society; it has a disturbing influence on parent and teacher as well as on the child himself. "Reading," the speaker said, is our method of communicating ideas and facts from one generation to another, and that makes it more necessary that readers be good readers.

Three facts were brought out, the waste of time and energy by poor readers; the brilliant and average students have the same percentage of poor readers; and in good readers 80 per cent are poor readers.

Improvement of diagnostic methods have increased the ability to improve reading. "Many children are sent to school before they are PHYSICALLY ready for the work required in school," the speaker said. He suggested they begin the routine of school work. This, he said, would be beneficial to the child.

Dr. Pelletieri, in closing, said, "There should be a relationship between the child's ability and performance shown in the grades of the child and the child should be graded by the relationship of his present performance to his past and not by comparison to other children." He opened the subject for general discussion; this gave the teachers and parents an opportunity of understanding specific points.

Mrs. Paul Miller, at this meeting was named chairman of the committee to select a theme for the P-T. A. Carnival parade of 1952. On her committee, Mrs. Miller will have Mrs. Carl Baderet, Mrs. Theo Thomas, Miss Carmelite Spotorno and Mrs. Grady Perkins.

Mrs. Carl Smith chairman of the nominating committee with Mrs. C. A. Breath and Mrs. Gerald Favre, members, will prepare a slate.

Ral Ann Witter and Carl Campbell, eighth grade, gave the report on the school activities for the past month; and Carol Horton gave two piano selections.

The attendance prize went to the fourth grade with eight present.

An informal reception was held in the Home Making Department in order that all would have an opportunity of meeting Dr. Pelletieri. Coffee and cake made by the girls in the Home Making Department under the direction of Mrs. Juanita Erwin, was served by the students.

L & N Officials Solve Blocking Of Railroad Crossing

E. E. Sullivan, Assistant Superintendent, and R. R. Mayhall, Assistant Train Master of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, met with the Mayor and Commissioners Monday morning, to discuss the problem of the blocking of the crossing by freight trains. This matter has been taken up with railroad officials on several occasions by the City officials, and there are still many violations taking place.

Mr. Sullivan explained that he had issued a bulletin directing all engineers to leave their trains on the bridge, and disconnect the engine if it was necessary to take water and coal; in the event only coal was to be taken, they are to take the full train through. In this way the crossing would not be blocked for a longer period of time than four or five minutes.

With Mr. Mayhall, he promised full cooperation, and stated that instructions would again be issued to the crews in this matter.

Nelius C. Rhodes Announces for J. P.

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of Nelius C. Rhodes for the office of Justice of the Peace, Beat Number 5, Hancock County, Mississippi, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951. To the Electors and People of Beat Number 5, Hancock County

I wish to take this means of presenting myself to the People in announcing my candidacy for the office of Justice of the Peace of Beat No. 5.

It has been my desire for several years to offer myself for this office but due to my Service in the past World War it was impossible to do so sooner, however, by request of many of my friends I now place myself as a candidate and solicit your help and support in the forthcoming primary.

To those of you with whom I am not personally acquainted I will give a brief history by way of introduction of myself and family. I am the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rhodes and have lived in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi since early childhood. I attended grade school in this City and was graduated from Bay High School in the Class of 1937. After my graduation I remained with my father in business in Bay St. Louis, later entering into a small business of my own. I am married to the former Mathilda (Mat) Maurigi and we have three children. I am a disabled Veteran of World War II.

If elected to this Office I will be in a position to devote my full time to the duties for which it calls. I pledge myself to work in harmony, offer every assistance and extend my fullest cooperation to the Law Enforcement Officers of the County and State. I further pledge myself to hold and maintain all Court proceedings with the dignity that such an office demands. I promise no favoritism, but only justice within the Law.

Although I will endeavor to see each and every one of you of my Beat in the coming weeks, I specially take this means of again soliciting your help and support.

Respectfully,
NELIUS C. RHODES
Candidate for Justice of Peace
Beat No. 5, Hancock County

Bobby Ladner, 13, Injured Sunday

Bobby Ladner, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ladner of Ansley, was seriously injured Sunday morning, March 11, when he was kicked in the side by a horse. He was going to rope the horse at his parents' home when the accident occurred.

Young Ladner a student at Lakeshore school, was rushed to Memorial hospital in Gulfport. He underwent a major operation there Sunday night, and at the present writing, is said to be improving. The kidney was severed by the rib when the horse kicked him.

A motion was made and adopted at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, March 13, that the City of Bay St. Louis be requested to stencil the names of the streets on curbs, wherever possible, and where not possible to stencil same on sidewalks or on Telephone or light poles, Howard LeTissier, president; announced.

It was brought out that the City has an employee whose job is to paint gas meters and fire plugs throughout the city; and it was suggested that he be given stencils and the proper paint with which to paint the names of streets in the proper places in connection with his work.

SHOULD COMPLETE WITH BEACH
Mr. LeTissier, in speaking of the ever present problem of a sand beach, said that we should have something to compete with the beach that is being built east of Henderson Point. He strongly advocated a small beach of approximately 100 to 200 feet in width.

"I firmly believe that a small beach that was kept neat and clean would be much more attractive to visitors than a large beach littered with trash and debris washed up by water," the president stated. He said that a beach of such size would be ample for a large number of people who always have more fun in a crowd than being spread out on miles of sand.

MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION ELECTS
The War Memorial Association the sponsoring body for Memorial Park, also held their election, March 7, with the following results: directors whose terms expire December 31, 1952: Captain Grover C. Brandt, Colonel Dayton L. Robinson, Miss E. Jane Lang, G. A. Schmidt, Rand Jones and H. W. Griffon.

Directors elected to serve until December 31, 1951 were Mrs. Minor E. Sutter, Dr. C. D. Taylor, Jr. Miss Clare Knost, Floyd Brainerd Miss Margot Gack and Robert DeMetz.

The retiring president of the Association, Miss E. Lang, will call a meeting of the new Board of Directors in the near future to elect officers from among those named to the new board.

Ike M. Frierson Announces For County Sheriff

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of I. M. Frierson for the Office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County, Mississippi, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951. TO THE CITIZENS AND VOTERS HANCOCK COUNTY, MISS.

In making announcement as candidate for Sheriff and Tax Collector, I realize the importance of the position, the responsibilities of the office and the ability and integrity required to administer the functions of this office, and I modestly state that I am qualified to fill the office in every respect.

I am a native born citizen of the Northern section of the County and was reared on a farm and am an actual dirt farmer, and through the years I have filled positions of responsibility. Starting in public business I served as Logging Superintendent in two or three counties in which Stockstill Brothers operated, for 14 years. Following this, I was inspector and buyer of piling and lumber for the Gulf State Creosote Company in which position I favored many people in my County, as well as serving my employer in a fair way. I served as County Supervisor of the WPA while the funds of that Governmental Agency were being spent in my County for the good people. (Continued on last page)

Other officers named were Johnson Shaw member of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, vice-chairman; and Miss Madge Allred, Home Demonstration Agent and girls' 4-H Club leader, secretary-treasurer.

TELLS OF COUNTY'S PART
E. A. Khayat, vice-president of the Pascagoula-Moss Point bank and a member of the Jackson County Board of Supervisors, spoke to the group on the 4-H program and what the businessmen and organizations in Bay St. Louis can do to help advance this activity.

Mr. Khayat, who is active in 4-H work, said that the rural American youth is the bulwark against what is happening to the urban youth today. They are teaching the children living in cities how to enjoy whole, some entertainment without indulging in the many evils that are tempting the youth of America.

WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY
"You the people of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County have a wonderful opportunity of serving the youth by working with the young people in their 4-H Clubs," the speaker added. This is a tremendous group organized under a fine program, Mr. Khayat said.

The purpose of the Advisory Council, which was formed at this meeting, Mr. Khayat continued is to meet often and learn from the Club leaders what has been accomplished; to plan a comprehensive program and see that it is started and carried through; and in general, to act in an advisory capacity. "This group should be an inspiration to the youth," he stated. "It is good for them to know that someone, not a farmer, is interested in their work and activities." Therefore, it is up to the people of Hancock County to furnish the leadership, the speaker said.

Mr. Khayat outlined the program that has been set out in the State to provide recreation and education for the Club members. He told of the camps that were organized where 4-Hers could not only enjoy planned recreation, but learn of building the soil, reforestation and other constructive programs.

In concluding, the speaker said, "the young people of Hancock County need your help. Have you the time to work with them?"

Major Carter, president of the Gulf National Bank of Gulfport and 4-H area chairman for Hancock, Harrison and Stone counties told those present of the million and a half dollar annual payroll from the dairy industry in Harrison County. He said this payroll can be trebled by following a long range program such as 4-H. "No one can lose by taking active part in this work," he concluded.

Among the first duties of the Advisory Council, is raising the quota of $950.00 assessed by the State Executive Committee on Hancock County for its contribution toward the completion of the 4-H camps. Miss Marion Nell Breland, members of the 4-H Club at Bay High, is president of the Hancock County Club.

NEXT MEETING
The next meeting of the Advisory Council will be held Wednesday, March 28, at 10:00 a. m. in the R. E. A. conference room.

Among those present were Mrs. George Stevenson, representing the Bay-Waveland Garden Club; Alden Mauffray, Rotary Club; Harold Weston, H. Weston Lumker Company; Warren Carver, Mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis; Mr. Delph; Howard Simmons, County Agent; Miss Madge Allred; H. H. Shattuck, manager of the Coast Electric Power Association; J. L. Bishop, Soil Conservationist; A. H. Gregory, local manager of the Mississippi Power Company; Dutch Amsler, Harrison County Agent; Mr. Shaw and Miss Udell L. Favre, Sea Coast Echo.

A Promise For The Future

In order to lend a helping hand in the task of building a better Mississippi through the vast potential of development found in the realm of 4-H Club work, an advisory council was organized in Hancock County this week.

If businessmen felt that an hour of their time spent in forming an organization of this kind to aid the rural youth of our County was worthwhile, then surely, they must realize the good that 4-H Clubs bring to the area in which they are formed.

The youth of today must develop along the lines that will help build a bigger and better Mississippi in the future; with their organized programs, 4-H'ers are restoring the fertility to the soil in their state, and making agriculture the primary industry in the South.

The basic fundamentals of better living are instilled into the members of the 4-H clubs; and it is on these principles that the foundations of their every-day lives are laid. The symbol of this group carries out this plan; their purpose is the fourfold training of Head, Heart, Hands and Health.

The value of 4-H Club work is not a debatable proposition. The argument concerning the fostering of 4-H work is not divided into pro and con. Like Christianity, Democracy, the Golden Rule and the Ten Commandments, the argument is solidly in favor of 4-H Club sponsorship. And with the organization of the Advisory Council in Hancock County, the Club members will have the guidance of adult citizens of their community in planning a well-developed program that will aid in building better citizens for today and tomorrow.

Today there are 103,605 farm boys and girls who are members of the 3,911 4-H Clubs in Mississippi. In Hancock County 460 boys and girls are pledged to the furtherance of better living through cooperation in their 4-H Club activities. In the quest of this goal, every adult citizen of Bay St. Louis and resident communities of the County, is obligated to lend encouragement to the youth of our locality. They can go so far alone, but at this point they must have the aid and support of their parents, businessmen, teachers, local organizations, ministers and our people in general. Without this moral and financial backing they come to a complete standstill. This adult leadership should be given to these youngsters who are striving to improve their daily routine of living.

For many years Mississippi leadership has graciously cooperated with 4-H Club workers to help expand the ideals of 4-H Club work. But there has been a severe handicap—a handicap which has curtailed 4-H workers in attaining Mississippi potential in this field; the lack of adequate training and camp facilities. Mississippi leaders admit that it should be removed so that even greater 4-H Club attainments may be made in the state.

The State 4-H Club Council, in cooperation with agricultural extension leaders and 4-H workers generally, is seeking to bring about closer co-ordination of 4-H Club work through the establishment of adequate training camp facilities. A plan to this end has been made, and as supporters of the Hancock County 4-H Club program, you should join every other Mississippi in carrying it out.

The work is well underway. Two years ago a campaign was launched to establish two camps—one for white, 4-H Club members at Magnolia State Park on the Coast and another at Sardis Lake; and a large camp for Negro Club workers in a beautiful setting in Madison County.

The sum of $100,000 is needed to complete this job. Each of the 82 counties in Mississippi has been assigned a responsibility in this task. We do not think that Hancock County will fail to reach its quota of $905.00, even though active participation in the local organization by the business and civic leaders of the community has only started.

We should lend encouragement to our 4-H Club leaders by supporting this drive, and by urging our neighbors to help. There's a part in this responsibility for every resident of this area. No matter what opposition can be made to 4-H Club work. Accordingly, all of us should lend a helping hand in the task of building a better Hancock County and state through the vast potential of development in 4-H Club work. We should be ready and willing to lend assistance to our club leaders, Howard Simmons, overall supervisor, Miss Marie Alfred and Albert Fleming, club leaders, and to every member of the Club whenever we are called upon, for our advice and contributions for these efforts may mean better men and women for tomorrow.

A program was presented by Miss Christine Northrop, instructor of design at Gulf Park College. Miss Northrop showed her water color illustrations of wild flowers found in this area, pointing out characteristics of the different varieties. She urged conservation of wild flowers, many of which she said are disappearing due to careless burning of the woods, and indiscriminate picking and pulling up of the flowers and bushes.

Touchstone Announces Candidacy For State Superintendent of Education

T. N. Touchstone of Jackson announced today that he is a candidate for the office of State Superintendent of Public Education. In making this announcement he released the following statement:

"The office of State Superintendent of Public Education is one of the most important within the gift of the people. It is the responsibility of the State Superintendent to provide professional leadership for the educational forces of the State, to insure an educational square deal for all our boys and girls, including the mentally and physically handicapped. In order to do this, he must work in harmony with the governor and members of the Legislature.

"Positive professional leadership is essential in this period of mobilization for the current emergency in order to safeguard our American system from dangers, both within and without. Such leadership is necessary in this critical period to develop our schools to the highest degree of efficiency, and, wherever needed, to convert the veterans' educational programs from peace-time to war-time requirements.

"If elected State Superintendent of Public Education, I pledge: positive professional leadership, free from confusion and indecision; a philosophy of school supervision based on my belief that the schools belong to the people; a reorganization of the services of the State Department of Education to help solve educational problems rather than to regulate schools; and, cooperation with all agencies and organizations engaged in child welfare.

"If elected, I will carry out the duties and responsibilities of the office for the best interests of the boys and girls of Mississippi without regard to political advantage."

Touchstone further stated that he plans to wage an aggressive campaign and to meet all issues without evasion. He will discuss with the people our ever-increasing school problems and means of solving them. His State headquarters will be opened around April first at 108 1/2 East Capitol Street in Jackson.

PUT PRICE CONTROL IN EFFECT

Price controls are now in effect on practically all commodities and services throughout the nation. The Mississippi District Office of Price Stabilization has issued the following summary of the first price regulations that will be of interest to business people throughout the State.

The General Ceiling Price Regulation was issued on January 19, 1951, and froze prices generally for each seller at the highest price charged by him during the period beginning December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951. This regulation by Section 14 lists those commodities and services that are exempt from price control. The only adjustment provision in the regulation is with reference to agricultural commodities which are currently selling below parity. Under the law, no ceiling price can be imposed upon raw and unprocessed agricultural commodities until parity is reached. Therefore, consumers will for sometime to come see legitimate price increases made by the retailers on such items as canned tomatoes, tomato juice, orange juice and certain other listed canned items. The same is true of chickens, eggs, milk, turkeys, and many varieties of vegetables.

Since the issuance of the General Ceiling Price Regulation there have been several specific regulations relating to ceiling prices for certain commodities. These include a specific regulation issued controlling a certain commodity at prices to be controlled by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. A brief explanation of the specific regulations affecting wholesalers and retailers follows:

Supplementary Regulation 2 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation establishes retail prices for new and used automobiles. This regulation does not cover trucks. In subsequent it provides that a retail dealer to ascertain a ceiling price takes the manufacturer's suggested list price in effect prior to January 26, 1951, and adds certain charges for transportation, excise taxes and customary service charges. The permitted additions are clearly set forth in the regulation. In order to establish a ceiling price for a used automobile, the dealer is permitted to charge no more for the make and model of the car than the price listed in January, 1951, used car guide customarily used by him. The guides used in Mississippi are N. A. D. A. Official Used Car Guide, Red Book, and Blue Book.

By Amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation No. 1, effective March 2, 1951, manufacturers of passenger automobiles have been allowed an increase of 3 1/2 per cent of the f. o. b. factory net price charged on December 1, 1950, and within a few days retail dealers will be permitted to increase their prices accordingly.

Distribution Order No. 1 was issued in an effort to prevent the dislocation of the normal channels of distribution for meat and provides that all Federally inspected slaughterers and commercial slaughterers register with the Regional Office of the Office of Price Stabilization, 114 Marietta Street, N. W., Atlanta, Georgia, not later than March 15, 1951. Commercial or Class 2 slaughterers should use Form DO 1-2 and file same in duplicate. This form is designed to show by species the weight of livestock which was slaughtered during 1950, and upon such records the Regional Office will approve a quota for the slaughterer. After April 1, 1951, Class 1 and Class 2 slaughterers may not slaughter livestock unless they have been registered, and in event they have been registered they may not slaughter livestock in excess of the quota established.

Farm slaughterers are not required to register nor receive a quota. A farm slaughterer is defined as one who is a resident operator on a farm on which he resides, at least six months in a year and who did not transfer more than 6,000 pounds of meat during the calendar year 1950.

Farm slaughterers should consult their County Agent or write the District Office at Jackson for further information.

Ceiling price Regulation No. 7 was issued on February 27. It is a margin type of regulation to be used in pricing retail sales of many items. It provides for the "pricing chart" method and in essence, the regulation is comparable to the OPA, NPR 280. This regulation controls a substantial share of the sales of department, apparel, shoe, furniture, mail order, and general mercantile stores. It covers retail sales only. A copy of this regulation will be mailed to every affected seller in Mississippi within the next few days. The regulation provides that two copies of the pricing charts are to be prepared on forms of the seller's own selection. One copy shall be filed with the OPS District Office at Jackson and the other copy kept in the seller's place of business. The OPS does not furnish forms for these charts. The charts are to be prepared and filed by March 29, 1951. The base date in the regulation is February 24, 1951.

The OPS District Office plans to hold a series of trade meetings in various sections of the State to assist merchants in better understanding the price control regulations.

Telephone Rounds out 75 Years of Service this Month

On March 10, 1876, in a boarding house in Boston, the telephone carried its first intelligible message. Alexander Graham Bell, making ready to try out a new transmitter, spilled the acid from a battery on his clothes and called out: "Mr. Watson, come here; I want you!" An instant later Watson who had been on the receiver a couple of rooms away burst in shouting, "Mr. Bell, I heard every word you said—distinctly!"

Mississippi now has 219,145 Bell Telephones in use; 34,235 of them in rural areas.

The 75 years since the telephone's invention have seen it transformed from a toy to one of the world's most useful aids in speeding the everyday processes of factory and farm and adding to the business and social life of communities everywhere.

Today more than 35 million Bell telephones are carrying an average of 140 million two-way conversations a day, with calls being made not only from homes and offices but from automobiles, railroad cars, locomotives, yachts, harbor craft, ships at sea and airplanes.

When you lift your Bell telephone to make or receive a call you have at your service the finest and largest communications service in the world—more than 7 billion dollars worth of telephones and equipment; 110 million miles of wire, three-fifths of it underground and 96 per cent of it rugged cables; and a highly skilled organization of 660,000 men and women who are busy day and night, planning, designing, manufacturing, improving, building, operating—all to serve you.

Here in Mississippi, as in the rest of the nation, the five years since World War II have been the greatest of all years for telephone expansion. They have been prosperous years and the expansion of 75 years shows prosperity and the telephone go hand in hand.

In these five years, according to T. E. Harris, Mississippi Manager for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, new telephones have been installed in this state at a rate considerably in excess of the balance of the Southern states or for the Nation.

"Since January 1, 1946," Mr. Harris stated, "we have added 103,259 new subscribers in Mississippi, to reach a new total of 219,145 subscribers in the state as of January 1 this year.

"Remarkable as that gain is, continued Mr. Harris, "Southern Bell has expanded even more rapidly in the rural field—increasing the number of rural subscribers in the state from 3335 at the end of 1945 to a total of 34,235 subscribers as of January 1 this year. That's a gain of 311 per cent!"

"Southern Bell now has 34 million telephones in nine Southern states—more than twice as many as we had when World War II began," Mr. Harris concluded. "In all, we have added 670 million dollars worth of facilities to serve the South in a little over 5 years. All this growth and maintenance of the financial strength to keep expanding will be increasing the comfort to our state—the South—the Nation in the days ahead."

Representatives of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, including Mrs. Oliver Radford, president; Mrs. Frank Kiefer, production chairman; Miss Betty Lee Mitchell, who will direct and star in the forthcoming production; and Mrs. J. William Hill, Jr., publicity chairman, will be interviewed over station WLOX at the Buena Vista hotel in Biloxi at 11:00 a. m. Monday, March 19. They will be interviewed relative to the play, "Born Yesterday," which will be presented at the playhouse March 29, 30, and 31.

A special performance of "Born Yesterday" limited to Keesler Field personnel will be given Sunday, April 1, at the Theatre.

It is unusual for a play to draw such a hilarious response at each rehearsal, after it has been in production for several weeks, the production chairman said, but "Born Yesterday" has earned this distinction.

The president urges that everyone who has not arranged their membership, do so before the opening night of this well-cast comedy.

They will be interviewed relative to the play, "Born Yesterday," which will be presented at the playhouse March 29, 30, and 31.

A special performance of "Born Yesterday" limited to Keesler Field personnel will be given Sunday, April 1, at the Theatre.

It is unusual for a play to draw such a hilarious response at each rehearsal, after it has been in production for several weeks, the production chairman said, but "Born Yesterday" has earned this distinction.

The president urges that everyone who has not arranged their membership, do so before the opening night of this well-cast comedy.

interior of the country. The forest products of Mississippi yield over sixteen (16%) per cent of our gross income. All this raw material comes out of the woods, or out of the interior, and moves chiefly over our local roads. I think everyone will agree with me that these local road systems are in very poor shape in the State. The black-topping and the rebuilding of these roads will enhance the value of all the property in the country as well as in the cities. Our rural school buses, rural mail routes and the milk routes are all traveled by these routes.

Secondly, I favor that the Legislature should change our Social Security Laws, or old age assistance and insert in it some of the Louisiana Laws, whereby a person sixty-five (65) years old and eligible for old age assistance under this law, will receive $50.00 a month as they are doing in the State of Louisiana without any strings on it.

If elected, I will do my utmost to bring about these changes. I will give the people the same sort of service that I always have, be ready to aid and enact any and all good, wise Legislation and at the same time I will be on the job to oppose any and all bad and unwise Legislation. I expect to discuss these questions with the people of this County and try to see as many of you as I can during this campaign.

I shall always feel grateful to the people of this County for their vote and their support that they have given me in the past, and I will certainly appreciate your consideration for your vote in this coming election in August.

Respectfully submitted,
